

Viz for Social Good – An International Network

Viz for Social Good empowers mission-driven organizations to harness the power of data visualization for social change. Since January 2017, more than 320 passionate data professionals from 120+ cities in 33 countries collaborated with 29 different social organizations on 31 data visualization projects tackling critical social issues.

Participating in a project is joining an international network of volunteers from numerous cities around the globe. A selection:
